Aginsky Consulting Group has a large pool of top quality professional consultants all over the globe with specific expertise in a plethora of areas. We are only as good as our people, so we are committed to hiring and bringing you the best experts in the field. All of our consultants hold an MBA degree from the world’s top business schools. For each particular project or engagement, we assemble a team of first class multi-lingual experts in the given industry, function and geographic area, drawing on our global network. Our people are familiar with major local corporations and key community leaders and are well-versed in the intricacies of the region’s professional practices and nuances of local business culture.
We are committed to helping our clients make distinctive and substantial improvements in their performance, identify the breakthrough opportunities for growth, create a competitive edge and maximize their revenue, profitability and shareholder value. Our consultants do more than just leave a client with a book of recommendations. Our consultants work with the client as partners to take the crucial next step in assisting the client’s implementation of those recommendations. This implementation phase is one of the key factors that set Aginsky Consulting Group apart from other consulting firms. Without helping the client implement recommendations, a consulting firm’s job is only half done.

Furthermore, Aginsky Consulting Group knows how to bridge language and cultural barriers - the company can provide all of its services in English and dozens of other languages to its US and international clients. We have considerable expertise in key world regions, especially in the emerging markets of Eastern Europe, and a high level of awareness for the specifics and peculiarities of local business. Therefore, we are well positioned to deliver a real value to our clients and to exceed their expectations.

In describing our firm’s goals and objectives, we do not retort with the standard cliché lines about high ideals and inherently naïve and complex formulas for success. Our goals are simple and clear; our objectives are resolute and tangible. We are a well-oiled team of expert business consultants and entrepreneurs at heart who believe that immense success can be achieved through long-term business planning and creative problem-solving, and that by applying both diligently, consistently and most importantly, valiantly, one can in turn create incalculable benefits for any organization and the surrounding community.

Unfortunately, creating such long-lasting organizational rewards does not allow for a clear roadmap towards the finish line. On the contrary, the path is rather convoluted and confusing which makes strategic business planning a task of utmost difficulty. This is precisely where our experience and business acumen is most useful to our clients. As company outsiders, we are often able to see what the insiders can not, thus enabling us to develop the best possible long-term tactical plan for the client, which is then often altered upon attainment of newfound knowledge and information.

The consulting industry in Russia/CIS is extremely polarized. At one end of the spectrum, there are behemoths like McKinsey, Accenture, Deloitte, and the rest of the top global consulting companies who typically would not deal with projects less than six figures in total fees and therefore mainly service Western companies in Russia and only a handful of Russian giants. At the other side of the spectrum, there are local consulting companies that charge less but are typically unable to offer a full range of services at a world-class level and are often times far less experienced. Aginsky Consulting Group is uniquely positioned to bring together the best of both worlds. We focus on small to medium-sized companies who cannot afford the likes of top western consulting companies, yet who wish to receive the same caliber of expertise from a top-notch international team of western educated, well trained, knowledgeable and experienced multilingual consultants who can deliver high caliber results with a personal touch at a reasonable cost to the client.
WE GUARANTEE THAT THE VALUE WE BRING TO OUR CLIENTS WILL ALWAYS EXCEED OUR FEES!
Corporate Strategy is undoubtedly the most important factor in long-term sustainable success. By creating a new strategy or altering the existing one as a result of ever-changing market demands, you are taking the first step to becoming a leader, a winner in your respective field, industry, region, and ultimately, in the global marketplace.

Even with availability of only negligible resources but with the right strategy incredible success can be attained, whereas the opposite is almost never true – even the most bountiful resources can be quickly squandered away if appropriate strategic steps are not taken. Therefore, we concentrate on this section of our service offering more than any other by engaging the leading experts in business strategy for brainstorming sessions for the client’s benefit.

We are committed to our clients in every way and therefore have a wide service offering to meet their growing needs. We are dedicated to delivering actionable results in a tight-knit bond with our clients and having a positive impact on the bottom line. We do not just try to achieve better performance, but strive to achieve ultimate performance, as benchmarked by the client’s competitors and the demands of the industry. We never settle for second place. With Aginsky Consulting Group as a partner, you are bound for success.

Our Corporate Finance practice has evolved over time to become one of our core competencies and primary areas of expertise. Through initiation and installation of various procedural and physical metrics we can consistently deliver long-term value to our clients and shape value-creating opportunities. Due to our unique experience and understanding of capital markets, particularly in such emerging economies as those of Eastern Europe, and as a result of our intimate knowledge of industry structure and far-reaching networks in every corner of the globe, we can deliver advice on most financial issues from valuations and M&A negotiations to financial engineering and risk mitigation.

We believe that corporate finance and major transactions must be based on a thorough understanding of the fundamental economics of value creation in an industry and on the capital markets’ assessment of the specific strategy or transaction. From our vast experience in a range of industries and geographies, we garner insights on how companies create value, and we leverage our unique combination of strategic, financial, and transactional expertise in our work with clients.

Our strategic advice on financial issues is particularly important to clients contemplating significant transactions. Historically, less than half of acquisitions have created value. We aspire to help corporations beat those odds. We believe our distinctive value as financial advisers helps management teams assess and execute transactions that make financial sense and enhance performance.

Our corporate finance engagements span many different categories, including but not limited to some of the following:

- Financial Planning
- Investor Relations and Support
- Mergers and Acquisitions
- Valuations
- Capital Fundraising
- Due Diligence
- Financial Strategy
- Financial Engineering
- Real Options and Derivatives
- Debt & Equity Issues
- Transaction Strategy
- Post merger management
- External growth strategies
- Capital Markets diagnostic
- Negotiation Support
- Risk Management
- Investments and Divestitures
- Alliances and Joint Ventures
- Financial projections
- Financial and transactional hedging
- Corporate Governance
Our Marketing and Sales services stem from our most inherent belief in entrepreneurial leadership and creative business development techniques. We always begin by looking at the “naked” firm, as if it were a young and hungry underdog, regardless of its amassed resources and assets, without its years of experience and achievements. We examine the organization through an ACG prism to gain an understanding of its founding principles and try to exploit those in creating a future vision for its marketing efforts. By stripping away the layers of fat and muscle we reveal the firm’s basic survival instinct that can be harnessed and, if properly guided and promoted with the help of various modern tools, directed at the strongest opponents with sheer resourcefulness and astuteness. Only in such bare form does it become clear how to best structure the sales efforts exploiting the companies existing strengths and assets available to it. The greatest results can only be achieved through simplicity of principle and a solid vision.

Aginsky Consulting Group brings a rich combination of people and knowledge to provide these kinds of services. We are capable of providing a wide range and depth of resources to address today’s most critical marketing issues.
